The Community

Located 40 miles from the Four Corners Navajo Nation Monument, where the states of Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado meet, Cortez has plenty of activities for residents and visitors to enjoy such as fishing, hunting, hiking, skiing, and mountain climbing. The parks and recreation facilities in the area rival those of larger communities. The Cortez Recreation facilities include one of the only facilities in Southwest Colorado that has a 50-meter outdoor pool, expansive parks, and an indoor recreation center with a pool, classes and fitness equipment.

There are a wide variety of entertainment options available in the area, including many restaurants with assortment of cuisines, indoor theatres, access to McPhee Reservoir, the second largest in the state, and numerous hiking and biking trails. In addition, the area has many archeological sites, including the Canyons of the Ancients National Monument and Mesa Verde National Park.

There are opportunities for those who enjoy participating in theater. Our cultural center has Native American dance troupes perform at an outdoor theater during the summer. The Montezuma-Cortez High School has a strong music and theater department that performs regularly in our new theater and the San Juan Symphony Orchestra plays locally.

In addition, Pueblo Community College Southwest is located nearby to offer college, career, and technical programs.
